The annual outdoor interclass meet was held last Saturday afternoon on Alumni Field, and although the weather was bad the meet was very successful. The crowd attending the meet was small and there was much comment on the lack of class spirit.

MASSACHUSETTS TRIP

On Wednesday, April 24th, the varsity baseball team met Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn. Owing to the rain, the game was called off at the end of the fifth inning with the score a 2 to 2 tie. Welch and Abbott comprised the battery for Maine. The score by innings:

Wesleyan.....	0	0	1	1	0	—2
Maine.....	2	0	0	0	0	—2

In an unexciting game on Thursday Maine was defeated by Harvard by a score of 11 to 1. Harvard used three pitchers during the game. Cleaves got the only hit of the game for Maine in the ninth inning. Stobie and Jones pitched for Maine with Abbott on the receiving end. Harvard took a decided brace after her defeat by Bates Tuesday and played much better ball against Maine, The score:

Harvard.....	1	5	0	3	0	2	0	0	x—11

In a spasmodic game Maine suffered her second defeat of the trip at the hands of Tufts college at Medford Friday, by a score of 12 to 6. Maine showed superior ball playing in the seventh inning when she caused some excitement, by scoring five runs. The battery was Gilman and Abbott. The score:

Tufts.....	2	0	2	0	2	0	4	2	x—12

MILITARY HOPMost Enjoyable Event

On Friday evening, April 26th, the gymnasium was the scene of the annual Military Hop given by the class of 1915. The four companies of the battalion under the command of Major Benjamin Calvin Kent gave an exhibition drill preceding the dance. The program for the drill was as follows: Company A, Guard Mount; Company B, Firings; Company D, Company Drill; Company C, Platoon Drill. The work of all the companies was highly commendable and showed careful work in preparation for the event.

The gymnasium was handsomely decorated overhead with red, white, and blue crepe paper strung from a center arch to the running track. A large electric sign blazing forth the numerals 1915, together with many red and white lights gave the interior a very scenic and artistic effect. The fraternity corners were resplendent as usual, several of the fraternities having procured new curtains to screen off their corners. Pullen's Orchestra furnished splendid music for the occasion.

The successful result of the hop was due to the committee in charge which consisted of the following: Captain W. R. Ballou, Capt. J. W. Hart, Capt. Forrest B. Ames, Capt. E. F. Hanson, Privates John A. McDonough, Francis A. Kelly, E. C. Goodwin, A. R. Mace, and E. C. Richardson.

Major B. C. Kent was Floor Director. The aids were as follows: Lieutenants Ober, T. Lewis, B. B. Anthony, and O. B. Higgins; Privates L. H. McFadden, P. B. Sheridan, D. M. Rowe, G. C. Bernheisel, William Milliken, Edward O'Brien, Harold White and P. M. Hall.

The patronesses were the following: Mrs. Albert C. Varnum, Mrs. R. J. Aley, Mrs. J. N. Hart, Mrs. E. A. Balentine, Mrs. G. W. Thompson, Mrs. E. R. Wingard, Mrs. J. A. Harrington, Mrs. H. A. Lord, Mrs. M. I. Parker, Mrs. B. H. Moulton, Mrs. E. J. Mason, Mrs. W. W. Haggett, Mrs. M. H. Dunn and Mrs. M. W. Brown.

Kansas co-eds on the track and basketball teams will hereafter be coached by the varsity coach. Kansas also can boast of a women's swimming team.

Wesleyan (Conn.) has received the gift of a large swimming pool.

After having gone six months with no college paper, a news journal is now to be issued weekly by the junior class at Tufts. The paper will contain no advertising.

CAMPUS BOARD MEETINGNew Officers Elected

The final meeting of that CAMPUS Board to whom all thanks are due for the improvement and upbuilding of this paper during the past year, was held in the Library at seven o'clock last Wednesday night and in its place there is now in operation a new organization, the CAMPUS Board for 1912-13. At this meeting the former editor-in-chief was in charge for the last time. He called the meeting promptly and went straight to the business of forming the new Board. By unanimous vote, Forrest B. Ames, '13, of Bangor, who has been Managing Editor for the past term,

WARREN McDONALD, 1912
Retiring Editor-in-Chief

PHILIP GARLAND, 1912
Alumni Editor for the Past Year was elected Editor-in-Chief. He took the chair and proceeded to the election of two Managing Editors. P. W. Monohon, '14, and W. D. Towner, '14, deservedly took these positions. H. M. Wardwell, '13, was elected Business Manager and H. L. Dinsmore, '14, was chosen as his assistant. J. C. Wallace, '13, was elected Alumni Editor and A. B. Ferguson, '14, Secretary of the Board. The report of the Business Manager of last year, O. W. Mountfort, '12, as printed in this issue of the CAMPUS was heard and accepted. F. S. Youngs, '14, E. B. Harvey, '14, C. Magnus, '15, and C. H. Hopkins, '15, were elected to membership on the Board.

The policy of the outgoing CAMPUS Board has been to develop as much as possible the Alumni column. Alumni institutions have been asked to appoint at least one man whose duty it shall be to see that all available news reaches the Editors of this paper but, probably owing to the fact that this is a new departure in the history of the CAMPUS, the idea has not borne fruit. The Editors, however, have great confidence that next year our Alumni will realize what an essential part they are of life on the campus and will adopt some such system as that suggested.

JUNIOR WEEK PROGRAM

Preparation Completed

Junior Week will be fittingly opened Thursday evening, May the second, by the Junior Exhibition Prize Speaking Contest which will be held in the Chapel at 8 o'clock. An informal dance will follow.

Friday will be the gala day of the week and will be marked by several events. The Junior Lunch will take place at noon, 12 o'clock, in the Library and there should be a large attendance. Professor John Homer Huddilston is to be the Toastmaster for the occasion. In the afternoon the varsity baseball team plays New Hampshire State College on Alumni Field. The Junior Prom. will be held in the evening in the gymnasium and will be the most brilliant affair of the whole week. A reception will be held in the Chapel from eight to nine, preceding the dance. The receiving line will consist of Class Presidents, Glenwood Goding Tilley, President and Mrs. Robert Judson Aley, and Professor and Mrs. Garret William Thompson. Dancing will commence at nine and an order of twenty-eight dances will be carried out.

On Saturday, in the morning and the afternoon, Maine and Colby are to hold a dual track meet on Alumni field. In the evening the Maine Masque will present "The Magistrate" in the Town Hall at Orono. This event will end the Junior week festivities and will be a most appropriate conclusion.

It is to be regretted that the Glee Club will be unable to give its services at the special chapel exercises Friday morning, as had been planned.

GAMES FOR THIS WEEK

First of State Series

Maine will play her first game of the state series with Colby as her opponent next Wednesday on Alumni Field. Colby has the better of Maine in that a large number of last year's players are on the team. On the other hand Maine, although handicapped by having no practice on a regular diamond has made an excellent showing on the Massachusetts trip.

The Colby line-up will probably be as follows:

Sturtevant, lf.....	McGhee, 2b
Priestly, rf.....	Reed, 1b
Moore, cf.....	B. Moore, c
Bowber, cf.....	Prentegast, p
Harlow, ss.....	James, p.

On Friday afternoon Maine will play New Hampshire State College on Alumni Field. New Hampshire has not been playing as good ball this year as last and the chances look every bright for Maine.

On Saturday Maine will play the Maine Central Baseball Club at Portland. This is a strong team and should give the varsity the practice of which it is sadly in need.

CUP OFFERED

The following letters are being sent out to the various preparatory schools of Maine:

March 21, 1912.

To the Principal:—

Dear Sir:—

Your attention is called to a cup, given by the University of Maine to be offered to the preparatory schools of Maine on the list of schools approved by the New England Entrance Certificate Board.

The conditions of the contest for the cup are as follows:

Each man from your school in this university who is eligible for college activities at the end of the fall semester, will count as one point in your favor. If he is still eligible at the end of the spring semester, it will count an additional point. The school that has the largest number of points at the end of the year will have their name engraved on the cup and have possession of it during the next school year. At the end of four years, the school that has won the greatest number of points will hold the cup permanently. The contest will begin with the opening of the university this fall (1912).

It is hoped that you will have a large number of men here to compete and that your graduates who are now members of the University of Maine student body will do what they can for their preparatory school.

EDITORIAL.

As the new CAMPUS Board begins its duties and realizes its responsibilities to the University it has at first a feeling almost of envy toward the retiring board which, as it goes out, takes with it a knowledge of work well done. The old board looks back on a most successful year; and the new faces the unknown and uncertain future. Such feelings, however, have no place at this time, nor can they long remain when there comes the thought that all the work is ever and always for Maine, and for her best interests.

There is no doubt but the coming year will be the best in the history of the University. When President Aley announced his decision to stay with us there was averted what might have been a serious blow to the college and we were allowed to keep one who will leave nothing undone in the best administration of affairs. In athletics the prospect of a fine, new grandstand and the increasing number of athletes that are coming here assure us that we will prosper in this respect. In scholastic lines also do we feel that the University of Maine is to be increasingly successful during the coming year.

Under such favorable conditions and prospects does the new Board take up its duties. Its policy will be, as in the past, to support as best it may all the activities of the University. To make this possible there must be back of all its work the loyal support and sympathy of the entire student body. Backed by this the CAMPUS board for 1912-1913 faces the new year with the hope that a year hence it can retire with a feeling of a pleasant task well done; and that it can leave "THE MAINE CAMPUS" with its present high standing.

With the commencement of Junior Week exercises only two days away, we are near to one of the two most important functions of the college year. The Junior Week exercises are not baseball games, neither are they football games, nor a track meet. But they are a part of the college life and activities, and as such should receive the encouragement of the students. For the Junior Promenade little need be said; but all the different exercises make up the whole Junior Week. Remember the Junior Exhibition Thursday evening. Those speakers have worked hard and deserve a large audience. The Maine Masque, too, should be well attended on Saturday night and made to feel that its work is not all for nothing. As Maine men we are in duty bound to back our athletic team but let us not forget the other activities of our student life.

Our baseball team came back to us from the Massachusetts trip—defeated. Before we say any words of condemnation we should first ask if the men did their best work; and having answered this most emphatically in the affirma-

Our Team tive we find no word of condemnation to utter. The team was unfortunate in losing because of injury one of its regular men early on the trip, and this, combined with the fact that little or no diamond practice preceded these first games in spite of defeat gives us confidence in that team. Let us show that confidence and give our best support during the games this week.

If "murder will out" just as truly will unselfish deeds become known. As was stated in the Maine Spirit CAMPUS a week ago, in order that the track team might have the benefit of a cinder track for their training, for about two weeks the men went to Webster every night and ran by the railroad tracks.

After each night's practice it was necessary that the runners should be rubbed, but they were a long distance from the college gymnasium. This difficulty was at once met by the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity which opened its house to the track men for rubbing rooms. For this act, with its attendant inconveniences the fraternity is to be commended, as it shows true Maine spirit and the support that counts in college athletics.

With May 11, only a week and a half in the future it is time to complete definite plans to go to Brunswick on the special train. Go and Cheer regardless of the result of next Saturday's meet and our prospects for winning the State Meet the Campus at Orono should be deserted for the eleventh of May while all the students are cheering our track team at Brunswick.

EVOLUTION AND THEOLOGY

Lecture given by Dr. Eugene W. Lyman of Bangor Theological Seminary in the General Lecture Course, April 24, 1912.

His lecture in part was as follows:

The relation between the evolutionary theory and theology is sure to be antagonistic, if one conceives of theology as a dogmatic science furnishing in a fixed body of authoritative teaching the basis of religious experience, for that body of teaching is sure to include some problems, such as creation and revelation, which theology would preempt against investigation by scientific methods, but which science, using the evolutionary method, feels called upon to include within its field of investigation. But the work of Schliermacher and Kitchin in subordinating theology to religious experience and making it a tool rather than a pattern, made possible the use of a new practical theology which abandoned antagonism to the evolutionary theory.

Meanwhile many scientists had come to conceive of evolution as a purely mechanical process, involving merely the interaction of chemical and physical forces, leading to no goal and embodying no purpose. Between such a theory of evolution and even a practical theology there could be no vital relation. The two things must move on in mutually exclusive realms, theology dealing in its own field with moral and spiritual forces, and leaving evolution to interpret the world of the senses in terms of physics and chemistry.

"But the extension of the evolutionary method into the realm of human history has made the retention of this mechanical theory of evolution. It is absurd to try to interpret human history without recognizing the influence of purpose and will, meeting in this field of human society, evolution and theology should adopt an attitude of mutual relation and helpfulness. The latter part of the lecture indicated some of the questions in which a recognition of the truth of evolution had brought about an enrichment of theology.

The doctrine of the imminence of God; with all the quickening of the religious life which it ought to bring, is obviously greatly strengthened by the notion of a growing, unfolding universe which underlies the evolutionary theory. So the increased perspective which this theory gives us into the age-long upward movement of life, which has culminated in the production of human life at its highest and best, strongly corroborates the belief in an Infinite and Moral Spirit as the basis of the universe and furnishes theology with a new argument for the validity of the religious experience. Nothing shows more forcibly than certain aspects of this age-long development—think of the evolution of the father and mother—how deep seated in the race are the roots of love and self sacrifice. With a freshened sense of the processes of evolution, revelation is seen to be not peculiar to one people, or contained in one book, but the progressive unfolding of the consciousness of God in the race; and redemption is run to be not a single event but an age-long movement in which atonement becomes an eternal principal in the life of God.

CHAPEL TALK

At the Chapel service Friday morning, April 26th, Dr. Robert J. Alely gave an interesting account of a meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences which he had the opportunity of attending as a delegate from the State of Maine in company with President Hyde of Bowdoin.

The discussion at the meetings was upon the subject of Competition and Combination in Industry. Congressmen, ex-congressmen, judges, prominent business men, publicists, labor leaders, in fact, men of every possible shade of thought, were on hand with something to contribute. Some were intimately connected with big industries. The Standard Oil Company, The United Steel Company, many boards of trade, and merchant associations were represented. The business men were all nearly of the same idea in regard to the question of competition. They nearly all believed in the big businesses and were not in favor with the federal law dealing with trusts. The fact was brought out in the meeting that if the government would assume a more continuous policy, the laws in regard to industry would be better observed because they would be better understood.

Dr. Alely said it would be hard to state the results of the meeting. However, through the newspaper reports, the people had the oppor-
